Senator Wellington has gotten out number of workers for Blair by simply SEPTEMBER ELECTIONS asking them as a favor to himself. He has swung a number of workers in this way, who would otherwise have been in the Warner ranks. There is no pretense whatever to get any votes for Mr. Hagner, and those he does receive will be entirely voluntary.

The democratic vote is proportionately lighter than the republican. The democratic organization has "laid down" on Lewis. Lewis' friends say his enemies in the party are trying to give him a black eye by a light vote.

Close in Fifth District.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., August 30. Prince George county, the home of both the democratic candidates for nomination for Congress from the fifth congressional district, Charles H. Stanley and J. Enos Ray, jr., will be close if the vote cast up till noon today can be taken as an indication. The friends of both the candidates vote, and as a rule are succeeding. In Marlboro district, where State's At torney M. H. Magruder and Dr. L. A. Griffith, the latter working for Stanley, are engaged in a flerce struggle, Stanley leads by a safe margin, while in Hyattsville district, where Mayor William P Magruder is championing the cause of Ray, the Stanley leaders are claiming the district by a good manifity, but will give no figures. Over 100 of the 300 votes had been cast at noon. district, the home of Mr. Ray, will, of course, give him a good majority, but the workers are making a strenuous fight to keep down his majority. Bladensburg district the vote is very light and but little interest was manifested during the morning. Ray has a large majority of the ballots cast up to noon, and it looks as though he will carry this district. BETHESDA, Md., August 30 .- A light vote was polled in this election district today. The new primary law seemed to be satisfactory to the voters. The republican contest excited the greater interest, and it is predicted that Gist Blair will carry the district. At noon not more than sixty-five votes had been cast, which is hardly more than 20 per cent of the total. The polls close at 6 p.m., and it is thought that the result will be known by David J. Heavy Vote in Baltimore.

Special Dispatch to The Star. BALTIMORE, Md., August 30.-Indications up to noon today point to a heavy vote in all the city precincts. The polls opened at 6 o'clock in the city, and the voting soon became brisk. In most of the precincts the democrats polled the heaviest vote early, but that is largely due to the fact that the contests are keenest in the democratic ranks. The republicans, however, are not far behind, and the situation as a whole shows that considerable interest is being taken in the

NOTES IN BOTTLE TELL OF SUICIDE PURPOSE

Names of Two Washington Men Signed—Both Due Here Tomorrow.

There is great anxiety in two Washington homes because of the finding in the Potomac near Windmill Point, Va., of bottle containing two notes announcing the intention of the signers to commit

One note was signed by "John Meyers," The note asked that his brother, H. A. notified of his death. This note dated August 27.

The other was signed "John J. McDonough, 2428 I street, Washington." It contained the following line: "Call me up and I shall be drowned the time you find this." The bottle was found by a fisherman yesterday afternoon. On breaking it open he read the notes and immediately sent them to John Mertyz, a fish dealer in Washington, together with a letter explaining the details of their finding. Mr. Mertyz turned the letters over to Acting Captain Flather of the fourth precinct, who later gave them to Chief of Detectives Boardman. The police immediately got into communication with the parents of the boys.

Went to Colonial Beach.

At the home of H. A. Meyers, 1226 29th street, where one of the notes asked that he be notified of the act of John Meyers, it was stated that John Meyers was at Colonial Beach, Mrs. H. A. Meyers said that her brother-in-law, who resides at 1071 Jefferson avenue, went to Colonial Beach last Saturday afternoon on the 2:30 o'clock boat with his wife, daughter and mother.

She said she had received a postal card from him dated Sunday, on which he had asked that a stove, his overcoat and gloves be sent down to him. Mr. Meyers is about thirty years of age

Special From a Staff Correspondent. BOSTON. August 30.-New England two weeks. Maine holds its election September 12. Vermont September 6, while are working like Trojans to get out the New Hampshire will experience its first able to do whatever he wants in the state-wide primary and direct nomination October 6. Massachusetts is in the throes of a campaign for the selection of candidates. Connecticut will nominate in September. Rhode Island is wondering whether Senator Aldrich intends to quit or was only fooling, and, taken altogether, this neck of the woods promises to be right lively from now on.

> Maine, as I have tried to point out in dispatches from that state, is decidedly doubtful. It is an even wager whether the democrats or republicans elect a governor. Asher Hinds will probably be elected to Congress, but the odds are against the return of Swasey, republican, in the second district. New Hampshire is torn with factiona dispute, the outcome of which cannot be estimated until after the primaries for the nomination of governor, which will be contested by the progressive republicans and the conservatives.

Knifing of Factions Feared.

are fearful that whichever side wins the other will knife the ticket, which is a fine prospect for the republican party. I will not ask you to take my word alone about New Hampshire, but will quote John Lorance of the Boston Advertiser, who is an authority on New England politics.

After a tour of the states, he says:

"Whether progressives triumph with Bass or regulars with Ellis, each group admits all republicans will have to work large majority of the democrats votes as never before to elect their candidate, cast here.

"It is not hard to find the cause. The dark utlook is not due to dissatisfaction with national republican politics or even with republican management of the state s long time has the state had so capable and conscientious an executive as Gov. Quinby. There has been progress, too,

"The republican party has responded to demands of present day advanced repubican thought. Drastic and strange laws have been put on the statute books. The have been put on the statute books. The cause provocative of party defeat is found in the party itself—intense factionalism. The republicans have split into two wings, called progressive—insurgent or Lincoln republicans—and the regulars, who are sometimes denominated machine men. The forces are about evenly divided, with perhaps the progressives showing greater and greater strength. sives showing greater and greater strength, and each group has had the other by the throat for the past four years.

"The regulars have, as a rule, triumphelections; but this year it is all differentthe conventions, they have not been able to command the full party vote at the polls. Thousands of republicans have preferred to vote the democratic ticket.
"In 1906, when Floyd defeated Churchill, and when the progressives claimed the nomination was stolen from Churchill, Floyd actually came out of the polls without sufficient votes to elect him by the people. He had to be elected by the legislature. Not in years had this taken place. In 1908, when Quinby ran, he defeated his democratic oponent by only 3,000 votes, and had only a majority of 700 votes over all candidates. The state was carried by Taft at this election by 18,000. The vote for governor revealed large and disquiet-ing independent voting. The progressives were not voting the state republican tick-et. For a presidential year Quinby's vote was extremely disappointing.

"In other words, the progressive
